SENATOR HILL CRITICISES THE POPULISTS.

Statement of Mr. Allen Denounced as False By the New Yorker—Prospects Good For An Early Adjournment of Congress—General Capital News.

Washington, May 22.—Senator Hill criticised the populists in the senate Thursday. At 5 o'clock Mr. Butler (pop. N. C.) moved to take up his bill prohibiting the further issue of interest-bearing bonds. Hill immediately moved an adjournment, securing a yeas and nays vote in order to gain time. The motion to adjourn was defeated, whereupon Chandler followed with a motion for an executive session. Pettigrew asked leave to offer a supplementary conference report on the Indian bill. The consent being given, Hill immediately demanded the full reading of the report.

This was an unexpected move for delay, as the report was voluminous.

The presiding officer, Mr. Faulkner, of West Virginia, in the chair, ruled that Hill's demand was irregular and directed the clerk to proceed with the reading of the report. Senators Butler, Stewart and Allen interposed a chorus of protests, but Mr. Hill refused to yield. A heated colloquy occurred between Hill and Allen, during which the former characterized a statement of Senator Allen as false. For an hour roll-calls and calls of the senate obstructed business, a quorum disappearing on most votes. A privileged conference report on the river and harbor bill, not including the California items, was presented and agreed to. At 6:30 it was evident that no action could be secured, as Senators were slipping away from the building, and Mr. Butler, author of the prohibitory bond bill, rose and stated that he would not inconvenience senators any longer, but would continue the contest tomorrow.

LABOR COMMISSION AGREED ON.

House Passes the Bill in the Interest of Workmen.

Washington, May 22.—A non-partisan commission of fifteen members to be appointed by the president to collate information and consider and recommend legislation to meet the problems presented by labor, agriculture, and capital was authorized by the bill which passed the house Thursday in accordance with favorable recommendations by the committee on labor. This industrial commission will be composed as follows: Five men each as representatives of agriculture, business and labor respectively, but a majority shall not belong to any one of the political parties which took part in the last presidential election. After the appointment of this commission each division of five is authorized to choose or appoint two additional commissioners, making the whole number twenty-one, but no division shall make both of its appointments from the same political party. Power is given the president to remove any member of the commission for inefficiency, neglect of duty or malfeasance.

This commission is to convene in Washington within sixty days after appointment by the president, and its duty will be to investigate questions pertaining to immigration, labor, agriculture, and business, and recommend to congress such legislation as may be deemed best on these subjects.

AN EARLY ADJOURNMENT.

June 8 Is the Date on Which Dissolution Is Expected.

Washington, May 22.—A general opinion obtains here that congress will adjourn not later than June 8. The key to the situation is now in the hands of the senate. All the appropriations except the general deficiency, which is always held until the last moment, have now passed both houses. The others are in conference for the purpose of adjusting differences between the house and the senate. In most cases each bill is held up pending an agreement on some one matter. The fortifications bill was formally disagreed to by the house Thursday, but in this case the only question in dispute practically is whether all the money shall be expended at once or half of it shall go in the shape of contracts. The question of appropriations to sectarian institutions is about all that holds up two other bills, the Indian and the District of Columbia. The sundry civil bill is well out of the woods except for small matters.

There is a general feeling that the president will veto the river and harbor bill. He has not yet signed a bill for internal improvements, and as the measure this year is so much larger than ever before, it is understood to be his intention to return it with his disapproval.

BY POPULAR VOTE.

Proposed Change in Election of United States Senators.

Washington, May 22.—According to a notice given by Mitchell, of Oregon, the senate will be called upon Saturday to consider the proposed amendment to the constitution providing for the election of senators by the people. This amendment makes but little change in the constitution of the senate itself, requiring that each state shall be represented by two senators, but providing that they shall be chosen by a plurality vote of the people in the state, the voters to have the same qualifications as are requisite for electors of the more numerous branch of the state legislature. When vacancies occur in the senate they are to be filled by the governor of the state until the next general election for representatives in congress. There is but little doubt of the fact that if the senate could be brought to pass the resolution the house would adopt it and the amendment to the constitution would therefore be submitted for ratification by three-fourths of the legislatures, and if adopted it would become the sixteenth amendment.

Strike Statistics Furnished.

Washington, May 22.—Commissioner Wright of the labor bureau has furnished statistics showing that from 1881 to 1886, inclusive, there were 3,902 strikes in the United States, involving 22,304 establishments and 1,326,203 employees. Losses to the strikers during the six years aggregated $51,814,723, to employees by reason of lockouts, $8,157,717; to employers of labor $34,163,814; assistance to strikers by contribution, $4,430,595; total loss, $98,566,859. These figures represent the actual loss to the parties engaged and do not represent the enormous losses which came to the community by reason of such disturbances. Facts and figures of the last few years in regard to strikes and lockouts are not fully accessible. Some have estimated the loss caused by strikes in 1894 at $80,000,000, while others put the figures at $100,000,000.

Erdman Arbitration Bill Is Up.

Washington, May 22.—In accordance with a special order the house today will discuss what is known as the Erdman arbitration bill, which concerns carriers engaged in inter-state commerce and their employees.

Free Silver Rules in Wyoming.

Laramie, Wyo., May 23.—The democratic state convention held here Thursday was controlled entirely by the free silver element of the party and adopted a platform, one plank embodying the most advanced views in favor of that policy. The committee on resolutions submitted the following platform which was unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

"Whereas, The paramount issue before the American people is the currency question, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we, the democracy of Wyoming, in convention assembled, demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold into primary redemption money, at the ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the action or approval of any other government."

The delegates to Chicago were instructed to observe the unit rule.

North Dakota Wheat Crop Short.

Duluth, Minn., May 22.—Grain receivers in this market have received reports during the past week from the entire wheat country in North Dakota. A consensus of interviews obtained today indicates that the area sown to date in that state is equal to less than 50 per cent of the acreage sown a year ago. The reports range from 3 per cent in the Red River Valley to 70 per cent south of the international boundary. There is, at the most, but one more week in which wheat seeding can be done with any promise of the crop's maturing.

Bollin's Sentence Suspended.

Lincoln, Neb., May 23.—Attorneys appeared before the supreme court Thursday and applied for a suspension of the sentence of nineteen years in the penitentiary of Henry Bollin, convicted of embezzlement as city treasurer of Omaha. An order was made suspending the sentence pending a review of the case. Bail was fixed in the sum of $50,000.

Gov. Matthews to Declare for Silver.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 22.—It is announced at Governor Matthews' headquarters today that the men who are managing his campaign for the nomination for the presidency are not discouraged on account of the action of the Iowa convention. Mr. Matthews' friends believe the action of the Iowa democrats makes it absolutely necessary for him to come out squarely for the independent coinage of silver, and they intimate that he will do this within the next ten days.

For Altgeld and Free Silver.

Ottawa, Ill., May 22.—"John P. Altgeld for governor and free silver" were the instructions given to the delegates selected at the La Salle County convention here Thursday to attend the state convention, and in order to make no mistakes the delegation was bound to vote as a unit on every question brought up in the state convention.

Wyoming, Ill., May 22.—At the Stark county democratic convention at Toulon, resolutions favoring the free coinage of silver were adopted. Altgeld was endorsed for governor.

Lieut.-Gov. Nye Withdraws.

La Porte, Ind., May 22.—Formal announcement has been made of the withdrawal of Lieut.-Gov. Nye of this city from the democratic gubernatorial contest. Ill health and the attitude of his party on the money question are assigned as the causes for Mr. Nye's positive declaration to be a candidate. The statement is authoritatively made that the free-silver democrats have secured control of the party machinery and that ex-Congressman Shively will be unanimously nominated for governor.

PROPS GAVE WAY AND MANY DIED

CAUSE OF THE HORROR AT BUFFALO, N. Y.

Several Lives Were Lost In the Collapsing Building—Gas Explosion at Coffeyville, Kan., Kills One and Injures Thirteen—Other Accidents at Other Places.

Buffalo, May 22.—The old Brown building, Main and Seneca streets, formerly occupied by the Western Union Telegraph company, collapsed on Thursday. The portion of the building which fell was being reconstructed and was upheld by braces. The cause of the collapse is supposed to have been the giving away of props. Many carpenters were working in the building at the time and the harbor-shop of Morris F. Jones was full of customers. It is feared that a dozen persons were killed, though only one body has been recovered. The list of victims as far as known, follows:

Coffeyville, Kan., May 22.—A gas explosion Thursday wrecked the two-story brick dwellings in the center of the city, causing the instant death of one man, the fatal injury of two other persons and the wounding more or less seriously of thirteen others. The killed and injured are:

DAVID CARTER, killed by falling walls.

Fatally injured:

ELIZA PURSLEY.

Injured:

DOT IRVING.

MAUD YOUNG.

A. S. MAXWELL.

MRS. P. K. SMITH.

MRS. MORRIS.

KATE MORRIS, daughter of above.

LOGAN ESHOM.

JOHN WILSON.

JOE SHORT.

WILLIAM KIME.

WILLIAM STUCKEY.

TWO OTHERS, names not given.

Several others were in the building, but escaped unhurt.

The explosion was caused by the careless lighting of a match in the basement, where gas had accumulated from a neighboring gas well.

The fire department and hundreds of citizens were soon on the scene and immediately began the work of rescue. The wildest excitement prevailed, and for a time it was feared the death list would prove appalling. Fortunately, however, but one person was killed outright. The search is still going on for fear some may yet be in the ruins, as the exact number of those in the building is not known. The destruction was complete and the wonder is that everyone in the building were not killed.

PRESBYTERIANS MET IN DISTANT TOWNS

GATHERINGS AT BOTH SARATOGA AND MEMPHIS.

Dr. Withrow of Chicago Elected Moderator of the Northern Assembly—Methodist General Conference Continued—Other Church Meetings and the Work they Did.

Saratoga, N. Y., May 21.—The one hundred and eighth general assembly of the Northern Presbyterian church was opened here Wednesday at 11 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church, where so many previous assemblies have met. Prayer was offered by Rev. William E. Carr, of Danville, Va., a colored commissioner, and the scriptural lessons by Rev. William S. Marquis, of Rock Island. Prayer was offered by Rev. Joseph M. Goben, of Kolhapur, India.

The opening sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. Robert Russell Booth, of New York, the retiring moderator, on the subject of "Christian Union and Denominational Loyalty." The text was taken from the gospel of St. John xvii, 20 and 21.

In closing, Dr. Booth spoke of the misunderstandings and conflicts which have divided the church and hindered its work. He deprecated any work or act which might aggravate present troubles, and said: "It may be a dream; it may be a delusion; but, speaking, as it were, for the last time in such a place of public authority, I appeal to the sound Christian sense of the venerable assembly to take some proper measures to ascertain what it is that divides us, and what is required for the abatement of strife and a reconciliation of parties at variance."

The first important business transacted was the election of a moderator. Dr. Frances C. Monfort, of Cincinnati; Colonel Alexander Ketchum, Dr. David R. Breed, of Pittsburgh, and Dr. John L. Withrow, of Chicago, were nominated. The result of the ballot was Withrow, 315; Breed, 163, and Monfort, 84. The election was then made unanimous.

After a resolution which fixed the hours of the daily sessions from 9 o'clock until 12:30 and from 2:30 p. m. until 5, the assembly adjourning until evening, when the sacrament of the Lord's supper was celebrated. Dr. Booth presided, and was assisted by Drs. Breed and Clelland and by elders selected from the various synods.

Dr. Withrow, the new moderator, instituted a new departure at once. One of the most arduous duties of a newly-elected moderator is in the appointment of numerous committees, upon one of which every commissioner finds a place. It has been customary to ask the advice of the clerks and of a few prominent commissioners. At the close of the afternoon session Dr. Withrow called for a meeting of two representatives from each presbytery with whom he might advise in the matter, and the result of the experiment is awaited with interest.

The first day's session has brought with it two surprises. The proposal in the moderator's sermon for a conference to arrange and pacify the differences which have troubled the denomination during recent years was the first. The second was the election on the first ballot by a handsome majority of the man who has been regarded as the candidate of the liberal party in the church. This view of the new moderator's tendencies was stoutly denied, but at all events his first act was accepted as showing a determination to be independent of control and dictation.

APPLAUD GOV. BUSHNELL.

Ohio Executive Presented to Methodist General Conference.

Cleveland, May 22.—Gov. Bushnell came to the Methodist conference on Thursday. His entrance was greeted with applause. Bishop Merrill, who was presiding, presented him to the delegates. The consecration of bishops was set for next Thursday at 11 o'clock. The first ballot of the day was announced for third secretary of the missionary society. The entire vote was 482. The result was: Hamilton, 180; Smith, 155; Brodbeck, 99; Baldwin, 48.

The judiciary committee will present two reports today on the amusement question. That question was referred to the judiciary committee with the request that they report on the constitutionality of the clause of the discipline restricting the members of the church to certain amusements, and prohibiting them from playing cards or attending horse races. The majority report of the committee will be that the clause is constitutional.

On the fifth ballot Dr. Smith was elected third secretary of the missionary society. The total vote was 509, making 255 necessary to a choice. Dr. Smith received 291 and Dr. Hamilton 205. For corresponding secretary of the Church Extension society Dr. A. J. Kynett and Dr. W. A. Spencer were re-elected on the first ballot. Secretaries of the Freeman's Aid society were both elected on the first ballot. Dr. J. E. Hartsell received 312 votes and Dr. J. W. Hamilton 308, thus re-electing both. Dr. R. F. Rust of Cincinnati was made an honorary secretary.

The committee on Episcopacy reported regarding the location of Episcopal residences. Boston and New York were approved without argument. Buffalo was reported and Dr. F. W. Whitcomb moved to substitute Cleveland. This was laid on the table by a vote of 216 to 132. Efforts made to substitute Shanghai, Negasaki and Pittsburgh failed and Buffalo was approved. Philadelphia was called and Dr. A. B. Leonard moved to substitute Shanghai and a spirited debate ensued. Washington was approved with discussion; Chattanooga was approved, although an attempt was made to substitute Nashville. New Orleans or Fort Worth was finally approved although an attempt to substitute Nashville, New Orleans of Fort Worth, was finally approved, although an attempt to substitute Nashville.

New Orleans or Fort Worth was finally approved, although an attempt to substitute Nashville, New Orleans of Fort Worth, was finally approved, although an attempt to substitute Nashville.

When Topeka was presented the Omaha people attempted to substitute Omaha. This was defeated by a vote of 231 to 142, and the question was finally compromised by making it Topeka or Omaha. Minneapolis and Denver were approved and San Francisco was taken up. An effort was made to make it read "or Los Angeles." This caused a prolonged debate and the amendment was finally carried, and the report as amended was accepted. When Portland was named Mr. Houda and Mr. Asada made strong pleas for Japan. A motion was made to amend it by adding "Or Tacoma," but the conference adjourned before reaching a conclusion. The Rev. James W. Haney of the Central Illinois conference, it is said, will be nominated for the position by some of the Illinois delegates.

METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH.

Committee on Revision of Discipline Makes Its Report.

Kansas City, Mo., May 22.—In calling the Methodist Protestant conference to order Thursday, President Hering urged the delegates to cease useless debate and get down to actual work. The report of the committee on revision was taken up, and its chairman, Rev. J. T. Murray, of Maryland, introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of seven to serve four years, whose duties shall be to revise the discipline and report at the next quadrennial conference. All amendments proposed hereafter are to be referred to this committee.

The committee then reported on several amendments previously introduced. Among them was one sanctioning immersion in baptism. An important recommendation was that for the publication of a new hymn book. President Hering was recommended as chairman of a committee to prepare it.

The question of the place of holding the next quadrennial conference was left to a special committee. Invitations have been received from Canton, Ohio, and Birmingham, Ala.

At the evening session, during a discussion of church discipline, a resolution was introduced and adopted prohibiting "unholy excursions" on the Sabbath. The rule prohibits indulgence in excursions by train, boat, carriage, or bicycle.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 22.—At Tipton, Ohio, twenty miles east of Fort Wayne, Thursday the boiler of a tile mill exploded, killing two persons and seriously wounding two others. Alexander Moore, who was killed, was running the engine and boiler, and to his lack of experience in handling steam is attributed the accident.

Reformers' Fate Sealed.

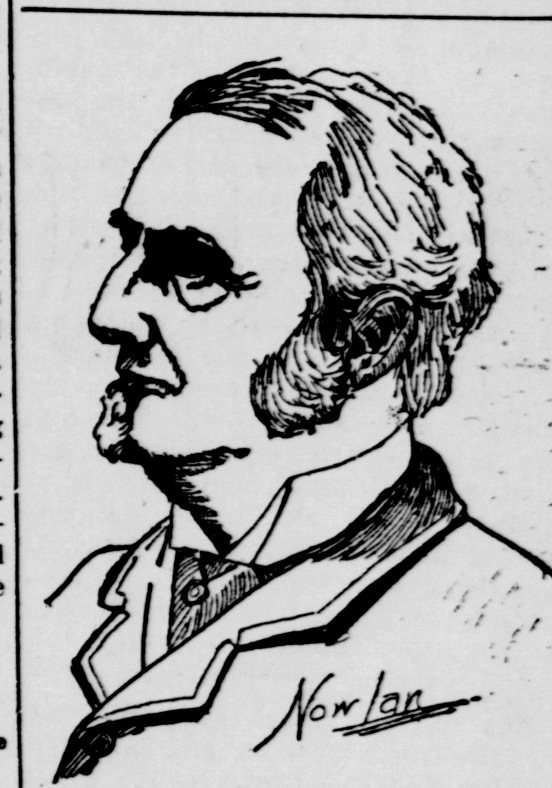

Cape Town, May 22.—The sentence of fifteen years for Hammond, Rhodes, Farrar and Phillips has been confirmed. It is probable the fifteen years' sentence will be still further considered. The fines of £2,000 and £1,500 are confirmed in all the cases. Nothing is said of banishment, but it is certain to apply to the principals and some others.

FRIENDS FEAR THAT HE CAN- NOT SURVIVE.

Has Been Ill For Three Weeks With Kidney Trouble and Has Been Gradually Growing Weaker Until Now His Condition Is Quite Serious.

Madison, May 23.—There is no change today in the condition of Gen. Lucius Fairchild. He is very weak, but does not seem to lose any of his grip on life, while no improvement can be noted. He is at his home in this city, and is receiving all the attention that the family and skilled physicians can bestow. Nevertheless, the friends of the family are much worried over his condition, and grave doubts of his recovery are entertained. Gen. Fairchild was taken sick about three weeks ago with kidney trouble. He grew gradually worse, and about a week ago was forced to take to his bed. He had grown weaker daily, and is now in a precarious condition.

BASEBALL REPORT.

Results of Yesterday's Games in the National League.

Despite Chicago's efforts to maintain the parity between the east and the west four of the five teams on this side pulled out victories yesterday, giving the section a lead of five games since the easterners invaded the valley. Cleveland leads the league. The Washington team by her victory yesterday is up into grade A, and now leads the Colts by two points, and is racing nose and nose with the Quakers. The Louisvilles' new form told, and the downfall of the Orioles and the Pittsburghs' victory opened a gap in that section. Boston has fallen into the morass which has been steadily swallowing the easterners, while the Phillies lost their sixth straight, and still move downward.

This was the first time he had been able to put his feet on the ground since he was injured. The fierce wind of Sunday blew down W. H. Greenman's wind mill. That night he came to the village and Babcock sold him a fifty foot Beloit steel mill that is cyclone proof.

SCHEMES ARE LAID TO FEED THE HOST

WOODMEN WILL FIND PLENTY EDIBLES HERE.

Churches Will Help the Hotels and Restaurants Out—Presbyterians Will Probably Have the Big Shackleton Warehouse As a Dining Hall—Merchants Should Decorate.

Janesville people are now planning to furnish meals to the army of Modern Woodmen who will be here on June 10. Not only are the hotels and restaurants making preparations, but the different churches and societies are also figuring on running booths, etc. All the churches in town will take a hand in the project and more coffee will be brewed, more beans baked, and more sandwiches made than ever before in the history of the Bower City. The ladies of the Presbyterian church have joined the ranks of purveyors of refreshment for the inner man and they discussed the matter at a meeting held last evening.

They propose to feed from three to five thousand people. Alderman S. B. Heddles presided at the meeting held last night while Mrs. Williams and E. M. Calkins were appointed to arrange for sub-committees.

In all probability the ladies will secure the large warehouse on North River street, used in connection with the Shackleton mill, the proprietor having kindly donated the use of the building.

Y. M. C. A. Ladies In Line

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. held an interesting business meeting at the building, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. C. D. Child presided, and the object of the meeting was to arrange for the feeding of hundreds of Woodmen at the Y. M. C. A. building.

No regular meals will be served, but lunches will be sold and the main auditorium will be used as a dining room.

Want Citizens to Decorate

The decorating committee for the Woodmen's picnic will soon make a tour of the business portion of the city for the purpose of consulting the local business men in reference to the decorating of their places of business on June 10. It is hoped that every firm in the city will embellish their store elaborately, and that banners and flags will be flying from roof to basement of every building in the town. A large number of owners of private houses have already made arrangements to decorate and there is little doubt that on June 10 the city will be in holiday attire.

Railroads Are Taking Hold

The railroad companies are pushing the picnic for all they are worth, as the event will be a profitable one for them. The advertisements of the road are beginning to appear in the various papers. The Delavan camp, for instance, will come on a special train that starts from Racine. The fare from Delavan will be but seventy-six cents for the round trip. The rates from all points are equally low, and all the companies have their passenger agents out "looking for business."

What people want in an ad, is exact, definite information. It ought to be given to them in a smooth, more or less attractive way and as strongly as possible, for "the other fellow" is after these same people.

BUTTER TO BE MADE FOR 2 CENTS

Price Reduced at a Rock County Creamery—Scale Goes Down.

Butter has been made at 2½ cents at the Footville creamery, in the month of May, and Mr. Carlson offers to make up the butter for 2 cents during the coming month of June, providing the daily receipts reach 15,000 pounds which he thinks they will by June 1. At present the daily receipts are upwards of 11,000 pounds and are gaining fast. Farmers should consider this offer as a matter of dollars and cents while butter is so cheap, realizing that a large quantity of butter can be made at much smaller cost than a small quantity.

White's home was in Baraboo. He leaves a wife and three children. He was well known here, his "rur" having taken him through Janesville for some time.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

A BEAUTIFUL LIFE CUT SHORT.

Brought to a Sudden End By That Dread Disease Quick Consumption.

Deep and heartfelt was the grief that prevailed in this city, as well as the home circle, Sunday morning, when it was learned that John Bear, son of ex-Sheriff and Mrs. J. L. Bear, had passed that bourn from which no traveler ever returns. He was seventeen years of age and in the beginning of his sickness he was taken to Chicago to a specialist who decided from the first there could be no possible help for him, and three short months home ended the life that seemed so promising. He was just budding into manhood, quiet in his nature, affectionate in his disposition, he won the esteem of all he came in contact with; and those who knew him best loved him most.

He was a member of the Junior Y. M. C. A., a sergeant in the Christ church cadets and a member of the Court Street Methodist Sunday school. His teacher, Miss Carle, who brought him flowers and visited him in his sickness, preceded him to that haven of rest a few short weeks ago. During his weeks of suffering he was always bright and hopeful and bore with patience all that came upon him, and when the final summons came he passed away as peacefully as a babe goes to sleep. He had a brave heart and in the fitful storm of life he battled with the waves of sickness and pain but drifted back into the great haven of rest, leaving his loved ones enriched with the memory of a beautiful life.

Funeral services were held at the family residence, 204 South Main street, Rev. Dr. Halsey, pastor of Court Street Methodist church officiating. Song service was rendered by Archie Crawford, who sang two beautiful solos. The Christ church cadets attended in a body, the pall bearers being also members of the company. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, and all that was mortal was tenderly laid to rest at Oak Hill.

IS YOUR DIGESTION POOR?

A Sample and Full Information Concerning the New Discovery for Dyspepsia Sent Free to Any Address.

A great deal of interest has been excited recently in the medical profession by the discovery of a new preparation, which has made many remarkable cures in cases of dyspepsia and indigestion.

This remedy is not a secret patent medicine, but is a scientific combination of pure pepsin and bismuth and fruit salts, pleasant to the taste, in tablet form, and sold by druggists under name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Dr. Erskine who tested the tablets in many cases with marked success, states that they act entirely on the food taken into the stomach digesting it perfectly, no matter how weak the stomach may be; they have no action on the bowels and do not physic, being purely and simply a cure for dyspepsia and nothing else.

All physicians recommend them as being the safest, most sensible, most effective stomach remedy on the market.

No dieting or change of habits are required; eat all the wholesome food you care for and take a tablet at each meal, the food will be thoroughly digested, the body nourished, the stomach rested; that's the whole secret of curing indigestion and the whole secret of the success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets; the reason why they have taken the place of after-dinner pills, "stomach bitters," "laxatives" and "tonics."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cts. per package, or he will order them for you if you ask him, as all druggists sell them.

A small sample package of the tablets will be sent free to any address if you will write to the Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. Also circulars and testimonials.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

337—Constantine the Great, first nominally Christian emperor of Rome, died; born 274; emperor of the west 312; of whole empire 325; called council of Nice 325.

1688—Alexander Pope, poet, born in London; died 1744.
1820—Richard Grant White, author and philologist, born in New York city; died there 1885.

1885—Victor Hugo, French poet, dramatist, novelist and patriot, died in Paris; born 1802. Hugo's political career was not the least important feature of an active life best remembered for its literary achievements. A republican by birth and training, he espoused the cause of the revolution in 1848. A year later he joined the advanced party of Democrats and became distinguished as an orator and leader. Napoleon banished him in 1852, and he resided at Guernsey until the fall of the second empire in 1870. During his exile Hugo published numerous works, one of which was a satire upon Napoleon.

POPE.

IN CARLISLE'S STATE.
Democrats are anxious about Kentucky. Somebody has called the Blue-Grass state the key of the contest for the control of the Chicago convention. Kentucky, as the home of Secretary Carlisle, the head of the financial arm of the government, is a highly important strategic point in the democratic line. The president and the secretary are the sources of inspiration of the democratic sound money forces, and they made their influence felt in the campaign in the secretary's state in 1895. They dictated the platform of that convention, but their aspirant for governor was less popular personally than his opponent, Hardin, and he was beaten for the nomination. If the silver men carry the Kentucky convention this year it will be a defeat of Carlisle in his own home, and will be considered by the sixteen-to-one-men as the capture of the gold democrats' citadel. This might have tremendous consequences. It could hardly fail to break the sound money line in the west and south, and would be likely to have a decisive effect in the Chicago convention.

With all this in view the free coiners are making an active canvass, and are impressing many speakers from other states into their service. Governor Stone of Missouri, has already thrown himself into the breach, and Senator Vest and ex-Representative Bland, it is reported, are soon to join him. Virginia and one or two other states are also expected to be represented on the stump by some of their best orators. It is safe, of course, to ascribe much of the airy confidence of the 16 to 1 men to the exaltation and general extravagance common to extremists in any cause, but it is only just to say at the same time that they are conducting their campaign with rare earnestness and intelligence.

On the other hand, the sound money democrats seem to be in a dazed and demoralized condition. Things have gone against them so thick and fast during the past week that they seem unable to recover themselves and make any organized effort to stem the silver tide. They declare vehemently, however, that a bolt of the entire gold element of the party will follow any wavering on the financial question. All in all, Kentucky politics bids fair to be interesting.

See favorite plea of the free silverite is that "under the single gold standard the dollar buys too much work, too much wheat, too much of anything bought directly from the soil." The Sentinel sets this at rest by remarking that "the dollar buys less work than it bought before 1873, and more wheat. In other words, wheat and the other necessities of life can be got with less labor."

How Grover with only his score or so of detectives to follow him around must envy the Czar of Russia, who had the entire four hundred miles of railroad between St. Petersburg and Moscow guarded by soldiers when he made the trip to and from his coronation.

The people of this country may be trusted to settle the third term question, should any man ever bamboozle a national convention into giving them the opportunity.

The very acme of wild-cat investments is the money contributed to boom ex-Congressman Bland, of Missouri, for the democratic presidential nomination.

If the Cleveland democrats are going to control the Chicago convention some of the silver delegates will have to sell out their constituents.

It is worthy of notice that Gov. McKinley, Speaker Reed, Gov. Morton, and Senators Allison and Quay are not doing any abusive talking.

SEASONABLE SUGGESTIONS.

Warm weather brings forcibly to mind the question of cool footwear. As a matter of fact women wear more comfortable shoes in the heated months than men. The reason probably is because Oxfords are so pretty and so stylish and can be procured at so small a cost. With almost a bewildering assortment of Oxfords it's not to be wondered that we have a large trade on these cool shoes.

$1.00 buys an elegant black or tan Oxford, point toe.

$1.25 buys one a little finer and good enough for anyone.

$1.50 This is where we are particularly strong. We show about a dozen different styles in tan and black at this price. All the newest styles in Turns and McKays sewed.

$2.00 If you are looking for a good investment in shoe leather, and $2.00 is the amount you wish to invest, just take a look at our $2.00 Oxfords; all the new shades of tans and the nobbiest of blacks. We take no back seat when it comes to $2.00 oxfords.

$2.50 and $3.00 Some think that a large price to pay for an Oxford but it buys just as fine an Oxford as can be made by the best shoemaker in the land.

We are showing one Oxford particularly in a dark tan made on the extreme needle toe with a silk top which is the handsomest shoe we have ever shown. It is made from a new pattern, the cloth being one piece. No seam in front, which makes a very nobby effect on the foot. Come in and see it. If you are looking for new and stylish Oxfords we have them. We want your trade on these goods. All we ask of you is to inspect our stock.

IF IT IS NEW WE ARE SURE TO HAVE IT.

MURDER AT DARIEN AND FEELING HIGH

FRANK HOWE FOUND DEAD IN THE ROAD.

Revolver Bullet Had Gone Clear Through His Head and a Note Said He Was Tired of Life—Physician Says He Couldn't Have Shot Himself.

A murder was committed near Darien last night.

Frank Howe, aged about eighteen years, was found lying in the road this morning with a bullet hole in his head.

Physicians said that he could not have shot himself, as there were no powder marks on his head.

A ticket was found on the dead man's coat to the effect that he "was glad it was all over."

Darien people take no stock in the suicide theory and there are sinister mutterings heard in regard to a certain person who is yet alive.

Darien is a small village just across the line in Walworth county. Young Howe has lived near the village all his life, and is well known. He and his brother attended the meeting of the Darien Camp of Modern Woodmen last night, and left the hall together. Later on, the surviving brother claims, a stranger who had been at the meeting of the Modern Woodmen, joined them, and that this stranger and Frank Howe left him, and walked on down the road together.

Found in His Blood

That was the last that was seen of this young man, until this morning his body was found. There was a bullet hole in his head, the ball having entered the back of his head, and come out over the eye.

At first the suicide theory was adopted as correct, but when it was learned that the wound could not have been self-inflicted, and that no stranger had attended the Modern Woodmen's meeting, the people became much excited. Several people are under strict watch, and the feeling runs high.

Young Howe was quite well known in the eastern part of Rock county, as he lived just across the line. The Walworth county authorities are investigating the case, and some sensational developments are expected before long.

NOVEL ATTRACTION NEXT WEEK.

Manager Stoddard Has a Unique Combination Booked For Three Nights.

Manager Stoddard has booked a novel attraction for Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of next week. It is the "Frederick Collins' Psychological Quintette in Twentieth Century Miracles." As its name indicates, the programme covers the entire field of psychological research. James Biddwell, the famous English forger; A. F. Collins, the well known hypnotist; Bror. Sundeen, the famous mind reader; Miss Mabel Davenport, Maine's magnetic marvel, and Kulio, the Hindoo Priestess, will appear and furnish features equally amusing, instructive and entertaining. Popular prices will prevail, and the attraction is much out of the ordinary.

NORTH MAIN STREET MEN KICK

They "Pay Their Money" But "Get No Parade."

EDITOR GAZETTE—Why is it that while the North Main street merchants are asked to contribute to the expenses of the Woodmen's picnic, they get practically nothing in return? The parade does not go on that street, and the exercises are all held at a distance. Of course, we pay when we are asked, but what good does it do us, when nothing "comes our way?"

THE STATE WINS THE FIRST CASE

SECRETARY HEIMSTREET IS HOME FROM GREEN BAY.

Proprietor of "The Fair" Store of that City Fined For Selling Drugs and Medicines Without Having a Registered Pharmacist in Charge of the Department.

Secretary E. B. Heimstreet of the State Board of Pharmacy, was in Green Bay yesterday and prosecuted the proprietor of "The Fair" store for selling drugs and medicines in a department which had no registered pharmacist in charge. The defendant was convicted and fined $50 and costs but on the request of the district attorney, the fine was remitted, the defendant paying all the costs.

This was the first case begun under this clause of the new law, and it was for this reason that the district attorney asked that the fine be remitted. The defendant, Mr. Openheim, claimed that he did not know that he was doing wrong.

RIBBONS AND TRIMMINGS.

Bows For Summer Dresses—Ombre Ribbons of Mixed Shades.

The new ribbons are very wide and will be used for sashes with flimsy fabrics. The very latest ribbon is shaded, or ombre, from the center to the edge. One piece shows the fondness for the combination of green and blue which has been exhibited so much of late. There is an indistinct stripe of blue running along the center of the ribbon which shades through violet to bright green on the edges. Figured ribbons are still worn and plaids and cross-bars promise to become epidemic. A very pretty opera bag, large enough for an empire fan, opera glasses, handkerchief and other accessories, was made out of Dresden ribbon six inches wide. The top edges were hemmed, a draw string of narrow ribbon was inserted and the bag was complete. The empire fan is still the favorite, though it is rivalled by those very large ones composed of 15 or 20 beautiful ostrich feathers.

Bows are much used for trimming summer gowns, and the latest novelty is the mixture of white and colored ribbon, the same bow having coques of both. The white element, in the form of cloth, silk, tulle or gauze, appears in the composition of all tolets.

Children's costumes also owe much of their beauty to the predominance of white. Large collars, pelerines trimmed with lace, chemisettes of silk and guimpes and placons of gulfure contribute to render the wear of little people picturesque and becoming.

An illustration is given of a summer gown of straw foulard with a violet printed design. The bodice is untrimmed save for a large bow of violine velvet fastened by a paste button and placed near the foot on the left side. The bodice is fitted behind and draped in front, fastening at the left side under a bow similar to that on the skirt. The bouffant sleeves terminate at the elbow, where they are adorned by a velvet bow. A collar of violine gauze surrounds the neck. The toque is of violine bengaline, trimmed with straw colored bows and spring flowers.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

VARIOUS NOTES.

Skirts Lighter in Weight—Hairecloth Petticoats to Make the Flare.

Smooth surfaced goods are to supersede the crimped and crapelike goods that have been fashionable for so long. The change will not be sudden, but it is steadily approaching in the gradual way that most changes of style come.

The new skirts are lined with fine percale or silk, and a few of them have haircloth inner linings, but lighter skirts, with the haircloth petticoats, are preferred by ladies who have many costumes. A perfectly fitted haircloth petticoat with silk ruffles is thought to preserve the individuality of style to which many women seem to cling. An effort is being made to decrease the weight of skirts, and this is best done by fine and light linings and the use of underskirts that give the spreading effect that is considered necessary to present styles.

Brilliant colors and striking contrasts are features of the prevailing mode. In the hands of a discreet person they are very delightful, but everybody is not discreet; hence there are some glaring and unpleasant effects. Color, however, is desirable in our modern, practical life, for it is the quickest and easiest way of rousing sentiment. All feeling for color must be sentimental, for color is not, generally speaking, utilitarian. It is a thing of beauty chiefly, at least that seems to be the intention of it.

Clouds of tulle and gauze, both black and white, are employed to neutralize the sharpness of some of the frank colors now in vogue. Frills and platings of these diaphanous materials have an exceedingly softening effect, and many charming inventions may be seen. Colored tulle is also much worn, but the nature of the color prevents it from seeming crude in color even at its brightest.

A sketch is given of a girl's house gown of bright blue veiling. The skirt is gathered at the waist and is trimmed with spangled blue passementerie. The blouse bodice, which has a guimpe, or chemisette, of white gauze, is similarly trimmed, and there is a belt of the same sort of gauze. The epaulets, collar and bows are of white satin. The draped sleeves terminate at the elbow.

WHAT BEAUTY WILL DO.

Men Have Made Women Set Great Store by It.

To put it shortly, if with somewhat brutal frankness, the majority of women have hitherto wished to get married, and, being in action, though not in argument, supremely logical creatures, they discovered centuries since that the quickest and most certain way of attaining this end was to make themselves attractive to men, says the Fortnightly Review. The most powerful form of this attractiveness has been, and is always will be, their personal beauty, and to enhance that beauty by every means in her power and to afford as frequent and striking occasions for its display as possible have been the aims of every civilized society, in so far as women have been able to determine them. And there is not the faintest reason to believe, cranks male and female notwithstanding, that these aims have become one whit less universal, less potent or less eagerly desired.

The assumption that it is possible for women to enter into the fierce competition of life and yet to retain this attractiveness, appears to me to be wholly contrary to all our previous experience. It is incredible that the same feeling should obtain between a man and woman who are striving against one another, as between the man and woman to whom the one is content to give and the other to accept the means of livelihood. It is equally incredible that those who are engaged in the actual contests of professional business should not lose some of the delicacy, the softness and the sexual attractiveness which are the product of leisure, shielded lives, and a code of ethics which requires a higher standard of higher morality and conduct than is possible in trade.

If women are willing to pay this price they at least show no sign of such readiness, and this can be proved not only from the consideration of their fashions in dress and analogous matters—it is even more clearly revealed in the education which is still assigned to girls, the subjects taught therein and the methods of life and study. But slight examination is needed to show that here, too, all is founded upon that same aim of rendering the girl socially attractive and effective, rather than of rendering her competent for the discharge of any special duty or making her capable and thoroughly proficient in any branch of learning or fit for any profession.

Flushing Collar Buttons.

"I'm thinking of giving up tailor-made frocks," she said. "I just tell you what it is," she went on confidentially, "no woman can be what she ought to be and lead the higher life if she has to wrestle with a collar button. I've tried it and I know. Every time I put on a collar I get so mad—"

"No, I don't," she answered. "At least—you know—not out loud, but I am firmly convinced that collar buttons should be the exclusive property of the sex who can use a 'big, big D,' and say it hard, too. Anyway, of all the double-faced hypocrites in the world, command me to a tailor-made frock. It is the very Ananias and Sapphira of clothes. Looks so simple and inexpensive, doesn't it? No gawags or trimmings. But you got to go to a man tailor to have a coat properly built, and he would perish before your eyes at the thought of anything but a silk lining, and you know what bric-a-brac like that costs?"

"Then it looks like you could slip it on in a jiffy, and you wait the last minute before dressing. You get out the collar and start to button it. One end goes on and the other one won't. You get red in the face, and you stop and dab some powder on your nose. You start again. The button still refuses to fasten. You wonder that you never noticed that you looked like a washer-woman before. More powder. You have rumpled your collar so it is unfit for use; so you take another and make a fresh start. Same hitch. You stamp your foot and wish you were a man for about two minutes. The perspiration breaks out over your face, and in your frantic efforts to fasten the button you perceive that all the curl has come out of your bangs and your back hair is coming down. About this time the button slips out of your nervous fingers and rolls away into unknown parts. It takes fifteen minutes by the clock to find it. You finally discover it under the bed and after you have clawed it all over the floor and broken your corset stays. I say nothing about ties. The woman who can tie a four-in-hand so it doesn't wobble under one ear and look as if it had been on a jag is too good and bright for human nature's daily food."

When the Hair Is Growing Thin.

Here is a recipe for a pomade to check the falling out of hair: Five parts of tincture of jaborandi, three parts of lanoline, twenty parts of glycerine; mixed with the help of a little soft soap; the scalp to be rubbed every night with a little of this pomade on the end of your finger.

Another simple lotion is composed of a teaspoonful of salt and one scruple of quinine, added to a pint of brandy; shake the mixture well and apply every night for a few weeks.

Ammonia takes the color out of the hair. Therefore if you use it in your bath take care not to wet the hair. For cleaning hair brushes, however, ammonia is invaluable—far better than soda or soap. A teaspoonful to a quart of warm water will be sufficient; dip the brushes into this, but not the handles of the brushes. Dry the brushes in the open air, but not in the sun.

CHURCHES FOR SALE.

Half a Dozen on the Market in Philadelphia—Strange Uses for Others.

If anyone desires to buy a church he will find some rare bargains these days, says the Philadelphia Record. As in other commodities, the supply of churches for sale fluctuates considerably, but just at present, owing to the rapid westward push of business, the number for sale is larger than usual, and the would-be purchaser must be hard indeed to please who cannot find one according to his fancy in architecture and size. There are now on the market in the central portion of the city at least half a dozen church edifices from which the congregations have departed or want to depart. The Epiphany, at Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, found a ready purchaser in John Wanamaker, who will pay down over $600,000 for it as soon as the congregation can find a site on which to build another church. They have now been over a year in an unsuccessful search for such a site, owing to the opposition of neighboring Episcopal churches. The strange uses to which churches are sometimes put is exemplified by the old Episcopal church on Filbert street, above Seventeenth, which is now used as a stable by the Adams Express Company. A few doors away, at Eighteenth and Filbert streets, is an old Presbyterian church, which is now being used by a firm of stone-cutters. On Vine street, east of Eighth, another ancient house of worship is doing duty as a factory. Salem Methodist Episcopal Church, at Juniper and Lombard streets, will soon lose its identity, having been purchased by the Baptist Publication Society, which will put a printing and publishing plant in operation there in a large building to be erected on its site. Only a short time ago the Tenth Presbyterian Church, at Twelfth and Walnut streets, was purchased and razed to the ground to make room for the Episcopal diocesan house now going up there. Many efforts have been made to purchase the old Chambers' Presbyterian Church, at Broad and Sansom streets, but the congregation decline to name any price for their property.

HE FOUND OUT.

The Policeman Was Kind Enough to Give Him a Practical Illustration.

"If you don't object, I'd like to ask you something," said an old man with a cane and satchel, as he stopped a policeman on Monroe avenue.

"Ask your question," was the reply. "I live up in Macomb county, and I have a son Bill who comes here pretty often. The last time he was here he came home with his coat ripped up the back and dead broke, and said a policeman had given him the collar."

"Well?"

"What, what did he get?"

"He got the collar, probably, just as he said."

"But what is the collar? That's what I want to ask."

"Why, he was probably half tight and whooping along the street, and an officer took him by the collar—this way—and gave him a shake—that way—and rattled his heels together—just so—and—"

"Say, hold on!" shouted the old man, as he picked up his satchel and cane and worked himself down into his coat. "What's the matter?"

"I've found out all I want to know! If Bill got that kind of a collar and was locked up and fined $5 to boot, I'll go home and raise his wages $4 a month and give him every Saturday for a holiday."—Free Press.

NO WASTE OF WATER.

Simple Process of Extracting Gold from Ore Which Saves Millions.

From the Boston Journal of Commerce: It is not generally known, even in California, that millions of dollars are annually taken from rude heaps of base-looking quartz by the flowing of water over huge piles of broken rocks that contain the precious metal. The process of robbing the earth of its gold has now been reduced to such a fine point that a gentle flow of water over the ore gleams it of its golden treasures, and this works well in cases where the old chloride and other methods are not so useful.

The water used by miners in bringing gold from piles of mineral-bearing quartz is charged with a simple chemical, which has the potency to dissolve gold and hold it in solution. The sparkling liquid, which flows over hundreds of tons of quartz, trickles through the mines and seeks its level, laden with gold, is charged with a deadly poison, cyanide of potassium, a drug which ferretes out the minutest particles of the yellowish metal and dissolves them and brings the precious burden to the vats for conversion into refined gold again. The cyanide process is as noiseless and unerring as the laws of gravitation. The method is based on the fact that even a very weak solution of cyanide of potassium dissolves gold or silver, forming respectively auro-potassic cyanide and argento-potassic cyanide. The solution is separated from the solid material and the gold and silver are precipitated in metallic form. During the last five years the process has been introduced into almost every gold field in California and elsewhere, and more than $20,000,000 has been recovered by the gentle flow of the waters charged with the magical chemical.

Precipitation is effected by the use of fine pieces of zinc, so arranged that when the rich waters flow over them the fine gold clusters in rich deposits over the zinc, for which it has an affinity. The gold deposits itself in the form of fine dust on the plates of zinc.

One minute is the standard time, and One Minute Cough Cure is the standard preparation for every form of cough or cold. It is the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. C. D. Stevens.

A. E. BADGER,

City Clerk.

A NEW BROOM SWEEPS CLEAN.....

An old saying truly, and it usually follows that it does not continue its clean work but in our case it is different. Our broom will improve with age.

A brighter and cleaner stock of shoes never came into the city than we already have on our shelves and we are adding to it daily. Every shoe in the house, and there are many of them, (with the exception of a few of the Minor stock, which, by the way, are going at 90c a pair,) are as new and fresh from the hands of the shoemakers as new shoes possibly can be.

Marzluff's 20th Century Tan Shoes, the kind that beatify the ladies' feet and are at the same time cool.

Foster's complete line of tan and black footwear for ladies.

Oxfords in great variety. All the pretty styles and shades in these cool shoes.

Our stock of ladies' shoes is most complete in every particular.

Those Men's Patent Leather, Calf, and Ox Blood Tans—with the new dollar and needle toes, are the swellest kind of foot coverings. We make the price right and give you one of the very latest shoes made.

If you enjoy buying or seeing pretty footwear don't miss us.
